CHAIN and ANCHORS 1944

ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF FAIRFAX HALL
WAYNESBORO, VIRGINIA

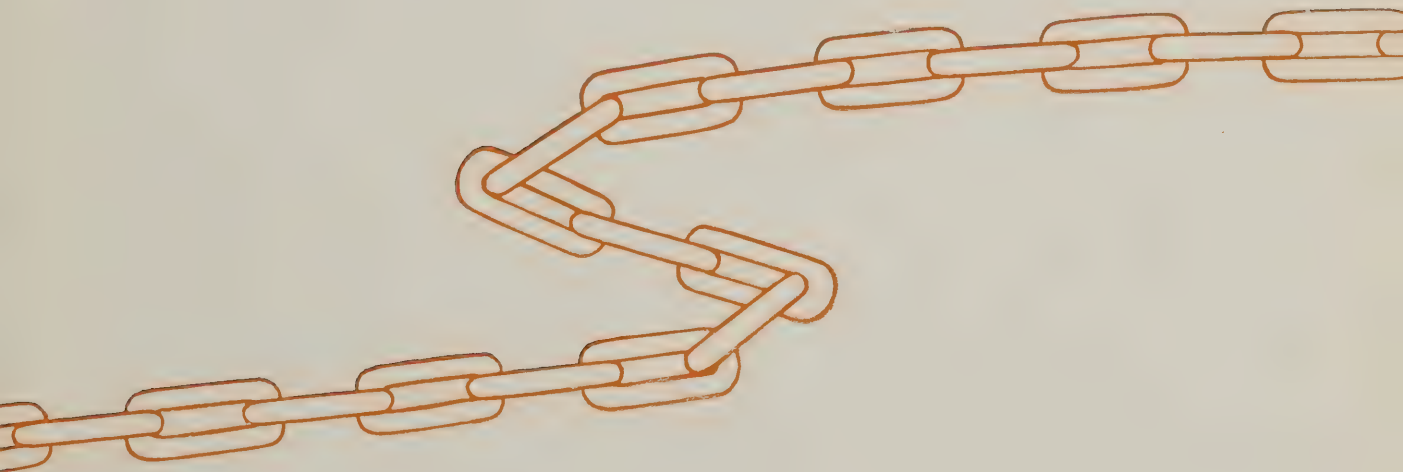

Foreword

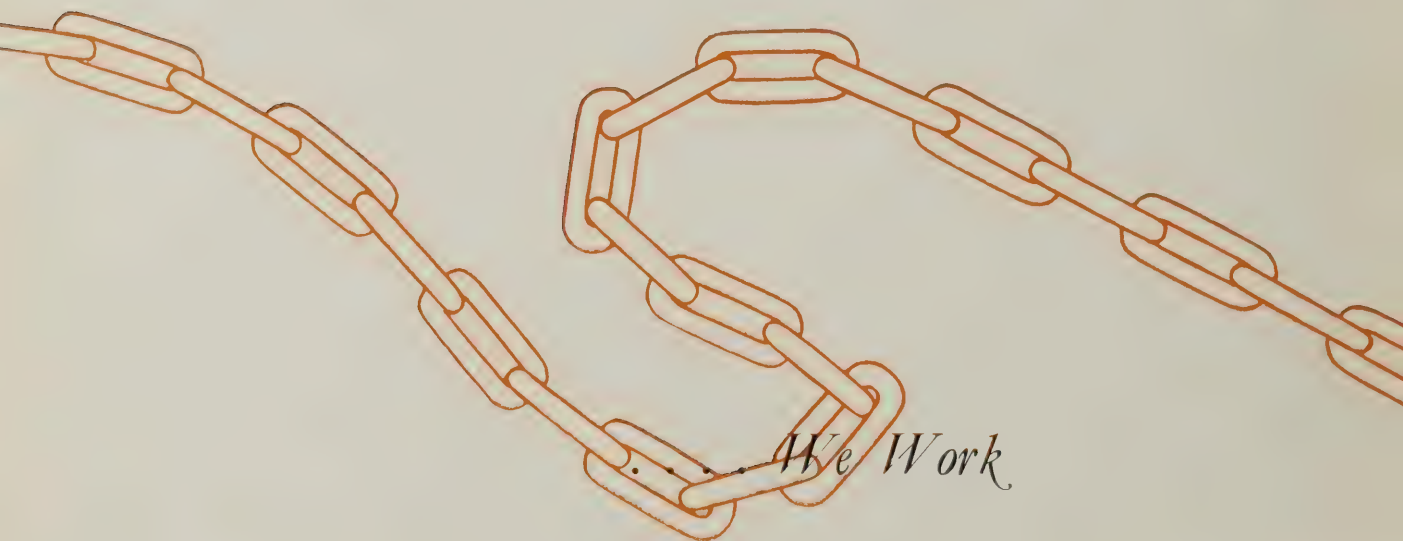

*I*N publishing this book, we, the 1944 Staff of the CHAIN AND ANCHORS, have tried to do more than edit an annual. We have attempted to give you something that is personally yours and actually a part of you. We have tried to depict, through this record of our work and play at Fairfax, the links of the chain connecting us with our school and homes—the ideas, ideals, and memories that come into being through the inter-action of school and home life. If, when you look at this book, you remember—and smile—we will be satisfied.

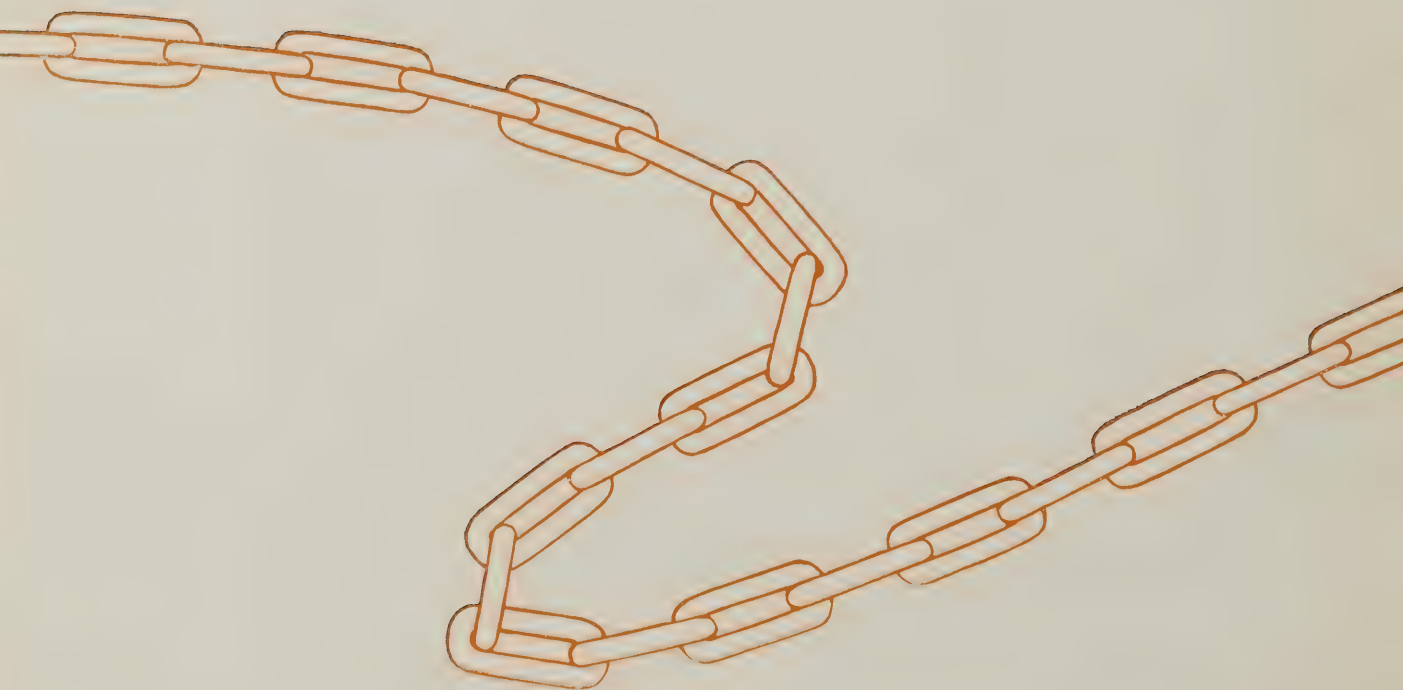

TO YOU, Mr. Gates, we dedicate our annual. You have been our loyal friend and helper in all our scholastic problems. We thank you for your personal interest in each of us and for your willingness and competence in guiding us through our school careers. We admire your ability in making wise choices and respect your excellent advice. Because you are our friend, Mr. Gates, as well as our patient advisor, we dedicate this book to you.

WE WORK . . . our first interest here at Fairfax is that of learning, not only in the classroom, but through our contacts with those about us. As we work with others, we learn the value of co-operation and thoughtfulness, and strive to improve ourselves in these qualities which strengthen the links that bind us to our school, our homes, our families, and our friends.

War Work

BECAUSE life here at Fairfax seems so peaceful it is not always obvious how much we are all contributing to the war effort. However, we are doing our best. Bandage rolling in the student lounge has become very popular, and a number of girls have made several trips to the Blood Bank in Waynesboro. The Bond Drive was a great success, in fact, we went over the "top," but most of all, we contributed 100 per cent to the annual Red Cross Drive.

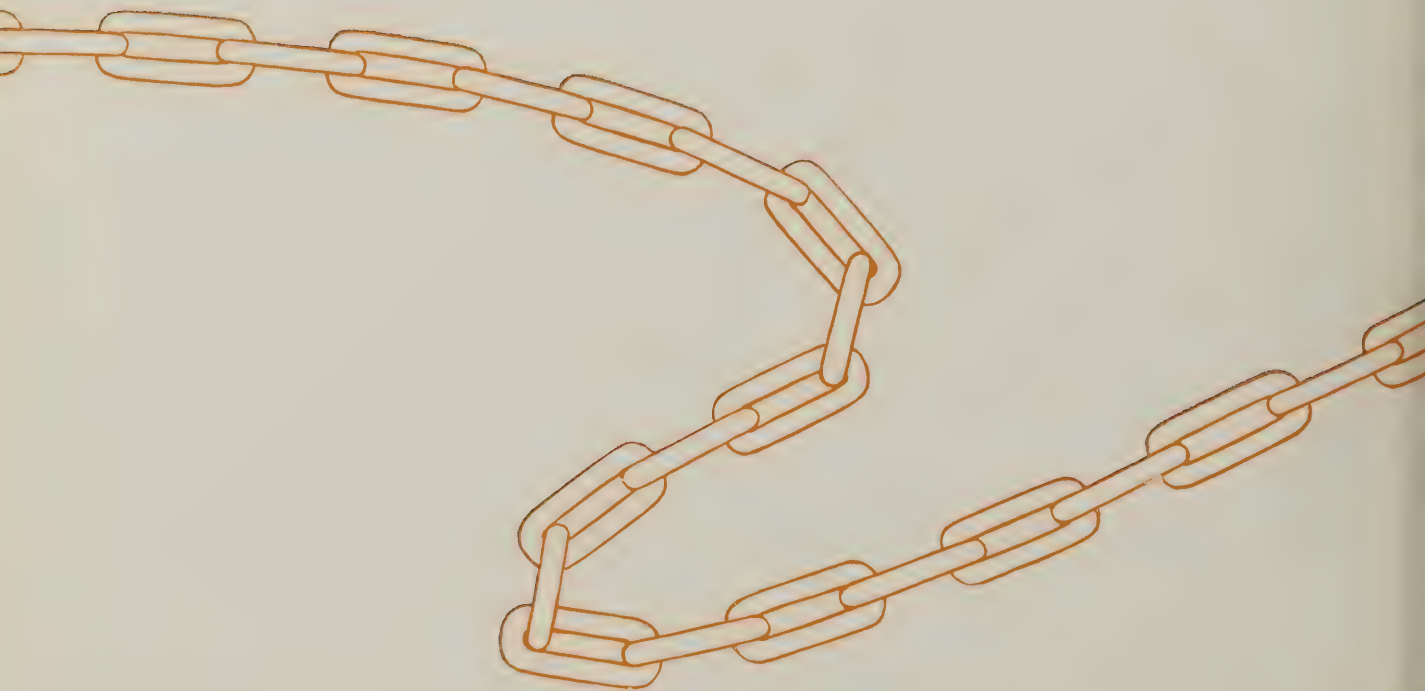

WE CREATE . . . with our brush and pencil, we have found expression through art; in producing plays, we have come to appreciate more fully the drama; we have contributed beauty in the form of music; we have encouraged creative ability in journalism through the school paper and annual. Though there may be no great artists among us, we have had the satisfaction of making something out of nothing; and through our own efforts we have come closer to the appreciation of beauty everywhere.

Purpose

ALL of us sing casually, but there are twenty-four students here at Fairfax who have more than a passing interest in singing. With Miss Mary Clute as Director, the Fairfax Choir has added a spirit to our vesper programs which only music is capable of doing.

The Choir sings all sacred music consisting of chorals, anthems, and oratorios. The object of this choir training is to prepare its members for future church and choir work and to stimulate their interest in sacred music.

Throughout this year they have sung at various churches in the community and at the Woodrow Wilson Hospital. On March 26, they gave their annual concert at the Basic Methodist Church and repeated it on Palm Sunday at the Presbyterian Church.

WE PLAY . . . no school life is complete without its social activities—sports, clubs, dances, teas, and the never-to-be-forgotten dates. We will long remember the Hallowe'en party with its air of mystery accentuated by a State blackout; the Senior Ring Figure—that fleeting moment of glory for the girls in white; the traditional “link party,” without which Christmas would seem incomplete. In our good times we forge links of friendship and sportsmanship which will never be severed.

THE purpose of the club has been stated by the President of the Carnegie Endowment as follows:
 "This work has been undertaken to instruct and to enlighten the public. It is not to support exclusively any one view, as to how best to treat the conditions which now prevail throughout the world, but to fix the attention of students on those underlying principles of international conduct, of international-law, and of international organization which must be agreed upon and put into action if a peaceful civilization is to continue."

Besides this, Le Cercle Francais provides an outlet for extra curricular interest in French by expression in songs, games, and plays. The club members composed the chorus for the selections from the opera, Carmen, which was given in the spring.

The Athletic Association

DOROTHY HARTMAN, President

Purpose

MEMBERSHIP in the Athletic Association of Fairfax Hall is open to everyone who makes a total of twenty-five points. These points are awarded for varsity teams, offices in the association, and individual sports. When a girl obtains 100 points, she receives a Fairfax seal; for 300, a large orange "F," and for 500, a black blazer with an orange Fairfax emblem on the pocket.

Many outstanding events were sponsored by the Athletic Association during the fall term. Among the most outstanding were the Student-Faculty basketball game and Aquacade for the benefit of the March of Dimes and the Red Cross Drive. On October 23, during the chapel period, the point system was explained. This year a new committee was formed, consisting of the presidents of all athletic groups in the school. This committee sponsored a dance which was held on April 1.

Hockey and basketball occupied the girls' time during the winter season. Spring brought softball and tennis, which are the usual sports of the last term.

*O*ur record is done, and we have come to the end of our chain of school links. But through the years as we look back upon our happy days at Fairfax, more links will be added; and as we pick up this book to reminisce, links that have become weak by the passing of time will be given new strength—with a new vividness memories will come back to be carried with us all our lives.

"Having a wonderful time—wish you were here!"

THIS has been a glorious year here at Fairfax Hall. We've had fun—yes, and we've accomplished much. Now we're looking ahead to another colorful fall, exciting winter, promising spring. Some of us are graduating soon. These we will remember and miss. But their going will open doors to a new group to join us for 1944-45.

Do you know someone—a sister, cousin, friend—who would enjoy and benefit by a year at Fairfax Hall? Give her name and address to the office today.

A COLLEGE ANNUAL requires the undivided interest and attention of Editor, Business Manager and Publisher if it is to present that much desired appearance of Character.

☞ For that reason, Everett Waddey Company handles only a limited number of annuals each year—a limited number so as to permit proper service.

☞ Everett Waddey Company of Richmond, Virginia, alone was responsible to the Staff of Chain and Anchors for 1944 for the correct manufacture of Chain and Anchors.
